Hermaline was educated in the Robertson County Public School System and was a member of the Bransford High School Class of 1964. She continued her education at Mason's School of Business in 1970. Hermaline was employed as a secretary at Meharry Medical College over thirty years. Outside of her paid employment she would always volunteer her services to help those in her community.

In October of 1962, she dedicated her life to the Lord under the pastorate of Reverend W.J. Speed. She actively served in many capacities such as the various choirs, church aide, and could often be found helping with the culinary duties during special occasions. Her longest and most cherished position at First Missionary Baptist was serving as the Church Clerk until her health failed. Hermaline was a longstanding member of The Springfield Pacesetters where she served as President for 30 years. Established in 1978, The Springfield Pacesetters was a civic organization that provided scholarships for deserving students, collected items to feed families in need during the holidays, and fostered a sense of community amongst its members.

In addition to her parents, she was also preceded in death by her brother-in-law, Deacon Arthur Chatman, Jr
