Naomi Theodosia Trice was born February 16, 1933 in Robertson County, Tennessee. She was the daughter of the late Booker and the late Annis Crocker. She departed this life, at the age of 89, on August 1, 2022. She was the last sibling of the Crocker children.

She attended the Robertson County School System, where she graduated and later became a substitute teacher, where she loved working with children.

Naomi was baptized at an early age and attended Mt. Pleasant Missionary Baptist Church and later in life became a member of St. James Missionary Baptist Church, where she loved to sing in the choir, saying the Welcomes to the Visitors and members, cooking for church potluck and serving on the Mother Board until her illness kept her from attending.

She loved butterflies and listening to her gospel music. Her favorite singers were Lee Williams and Al Green. Naomi had many faithful and devoted friends over the years: Vernita Bell, Marjorie and Cecil Traughber, Mattie Payne, Helen Woodard, Jane Ligon and Dorothy Morton. She had a wealth of friends that she adored. Her family was her heart, she still remembered all of her siblings names and could tell you something about each of them. In her Bible, she had many notes where she recorded every sermon title and scripture given for that message.

She is preceded in death by her parents, Booker and Annis Crocker; husband Daniel Douglas Trice; two sisters, Dorothy Trice and Alo Bernice Neblett; brothers, Ell T. Crocker, John Crocker, William Crocker, Raydell Crocker and Dannis Crocker; two grandsons, Christopher Thomas and Timothy Traughber.

She leaves to cherish her memories: devoted children, Phillip Wayne (Gabi) Trice of Ocala, FL; Angela Doreen (James) Traughber and Pamela Lorraine (Michael) Black of Springfield, TN; She also leaves to carry on her legacy of love, eight grandchildren, sixteen great-grandchildren. one sister-in-love, Ester Neblett Crocker Grigsby; and a host of nieces, nephews, cousins, other family and friends.
