Rosey Virginia Bellamy Page was Born to the late Janie Virginia Thomas Hardin and Hershel Bellamy in Johnstown, Kentucky on October 5, 1925. She was raised by her loving Grandparents, Ellen Laura Rosalee and Charlie Frances Thomas. She survived scarlet fever due to the nurturing and care of her loving Grandmother who practiced herbal and naturalistic medicine. The Thomas family survived the great depression and provided aide to their community with food grown on their farm. Her cousins, Elizabeth Taylor and Alberta Browder were more like her sisters, and she would often relate stories of their growing up together.

She moved to Cleveland, Ohio to live with her Mother, Janie around 1945 to make a life for herself and her children. She met and eventually married Julius Page in Cleveland, Ohio. There were no children from this union, but Julius was a loving man who was definitely a father to Rosey's children. God blessed us when his family was blended with our family. She lost her husband Julius in 2018.

Rosey moved her little family back to Kentucky to care for her Grandfather, Charlie Thomas. Once again, her cousin, Alberta Browder and her family embraced us with open arms. Friends like the Kimbrough Family and Rosey's sisters and brothers all welcomed us and helped us to reestablish our new environment. In 1969 Rosey and Julius bought a home and moved to Springfield, Tennessee where she resided until her passing.

Rosey Page was a talented woman, who crocheted and made handmade quilts. She worked in NHC Nursing and Rehab facility until she retired. She loved her Fairview Missionary Baptist Church where she was an Usher and then Mother of the Church. She attended faithfully until her health failed.

She is survived by her Daughters, Elizabeth Babb, Henrietta (John) Woodson and Charlene Finney and Stepdaughter, Judy Payne. Her Cousin/Sister, Elizabeth Taylor. Her Grandchildren, Regina (Elgin) Bailey, Felicia Stewart, Stephanie Stewart, Teresa Woodson, Henry Woodson and Vanessa Woodson. Her Brothers, George Bellamy and Anthony Bellamy. Her Sisters, Mildred Hart, Elnora Gaines and Tanya Lane. Her Cousin, Mattie Thomas. Her Great Children, Nieces and Nephews.
